

Now You've Heard Everything

When seconds matter, you need building occupants to understand what is happening and what actions they need to take. It's the difference between clarity vs. confusion, certainty vs. indecision, action vs. hesitation. Their safety depends on it.

SpectrAlert® Advance speakers transmit clear, intelligible words during emergency situations. Choose either SP high fidelity speakers for crisp, clean signals, or SPV high volume speakers to command attention in environments with high ambient noise levels.

Learn more about the new System Sensor SpectrAlert Advance speakers: their plug-in design, reduced ground faults, and their versatility to fit any application imaginable.

Once you've heard everything, you'll never settle for anything less.
